

Lag B'Omer means "the 33rd day of the (counting of the) Omer. While there are several events associated with the origin of the holiday, Lag B'Omer is special in the fact that none of the prohibitions of the Omer period are forbidden. It is a time of dancing and singing. Families go on picnics and outings. Children go out to the fields with their teachers with bows and (rubber-tipped) arrows, and bats and balls. Bonfires are one of the symbols of the holiday.
